Rooms WANTED.—Rooms for either one or two small families wanted; if not in village will be acceptable in Wildcat or on the Egbert Farm. Inquire at the Record office.

Ice cold Soda Water will be served at A. D. Miller & Co.'s this evening.

The play ladies are most fond of—display—they take a hand in it wherever they can.

April borrowed a day from June, Monday last, surprising the buds into coming out to see what was the matter.

The freight train Northward bound ran off the track at Shaffer this afternoon, and in consequence the Express train due here at 3.10 will probably be delayed two hours.

A law was passed by the last Legislature requiring all persons who sell patent rights, to get a license from the Commissioner of each county. A heavy penalty is incurred by disregarding the law.

A young woman in Louisiana committed suicide by a pistol the other day which she fired off with a lighted match. With true orderly feminine instinct, she placed the pistol in her work-basket before she expired.

Breckinridge will go into the Kentucky Legislature at its next session in place of Preston, who now holds the seat for Fayette county. It is a mistake to suppose that he is poor and broken. He is worth not less than $50,000, and his health was never so good as at present.

The editor of the Journal of Health says that a lemon or two taken at tea-time as a substitute for other supper would give many a man a comfortable night's sleep as well as a hearty appetite for breakfast. Such spare diet as this would do to compare with the dress of an Indian squaw recently described by a Western writer. It consisted of a red woollen string around her neck.

MYERS' ANTHEMUM TROUPE LAST EVENING.—The Opera House last evening was well filled on the occasion of the opening night of Myers' Anthemum Troupe. The Juggler and his Daughter was the play introduced, and was received with entire satisfaction by the audience. Little Nellie won the admiration of all by the appropriateness of her manner, her clear and distinct voice. Mr. Robert Johnson as Joderise, shows himself to be an actor of merit, and the entire cast is made up of good performers, better than whom seldom visit us. Little Nellie as Andy Blake, in the farce, seems to handle her part with apparent ease, and her manner in this act, as in the Juggler's Daughter, is pleasing to an appreciative audience. This troupe is well worthy the patronage of the public, and we hope to see the Opera House well filled this evening, at which time will be introduced the beautiful drama of Fanchon, the Witch. Go early and secure seats.

200 Barrel Well on the Pierson Farm

Considerable excitement prevailed on our streets last evening arising from the fact that a small well, by being torpedoed, had been made to yield to an unusual degree. The testing of the well was commenced on Tuesday last, and, on an average, pumped about five barrels per day, until yesterday, after being torpedoed. It rose to a 200 barrel well. It was discovered on drawing the valve before torpedoing it, that it was leaking to a great extent, when a tight valve was substituted. At the time of going to press this afternoon, the yield is about 40 barrels, but it is thought that the well will continue to produce largely. It is owned by Messrs. Carmine & Dickerson, Lease 17, Pierson Farm.

A young fellow who resides in Knox county had for some time been paying his addresses to a young lady at Vincennes, Indiana, made a proposal of marriage and was accepted. In accordance with mutual agreement made by the parties, they went to that city to get married. The young man left the girl at the hotel to go and get the license, and a minister to marry them. In due time he returned with two men, one of whom he introduced as a Baptist minister, and asked the couple if they were ready, and on receiving an affirmative answer, went through the marriage ceremony. The honeymoon went "merry as a marriage-bell" until the next day, when the happy couple arrived at the girl's mother's, when the gay deceiver informed the object of his deceit of the true state of affairs and bid her adieu. The fiend of this gross and glaring outrage is permitted to walk the streets of Vincennes, with as boastful airs as if he had subdued an empire, while the physician of the outraged girl says that she is lying at her mother's at the point of death.

SECRETARY BORIE in his circular on the eight hour question says the law requires him to fix the wages of employees at the same ratio as are paid in private establishments; and therefore he cannot pay the same for eight hours as is elsewhere paid for ten. He will, however pay men for ten hours if they work ten; and he authorizes commandants of navy yards to employ them in this way. In thus treating the subject, he is sustained by Attorney General Hoar. Senator Wilson has addressed a letter to the Secretary dissenting from this construction. He maintains, first, that the law was passed in answer to the numerous petitions of mechanics and workmen employed in the Government establishments; secondly, that it was the intention of Congress to fully meet their views; and, thirdly, the law was plain upon the subject. The letter will probably be published.

A FRENCHMAN SPONTANEOUSLY COMBUST.—The New Orleans Crescent relates a case of spontaneous combustion which occurred in that city. The victim, one Gaston Luylay, a Frenchman, who was an excessive drinker, was known to absorb as much as fourteen bottles of claret in one day. Luylay became so degraded that he became a mere hanger-on at a low saloon. During one of his horrible debauches he was discovered in the act of drinking from a can containing coal oil.

The physicians who attended him were unable to divine the nature of his complaint. The victim rendered the most heartrending screams, complained of intense stinging pains, and died in the greatest agony. His whole frame was convulsed and slightly distorted, the body in a state of ebullition, as it were, and covered with blisters, which, bursting, a lot of liquid of a yellowish red color trickled from them to the floor. When ensued the body became perfectly dried up and shrunken, and as black as charcoal. The Coroner's inquest bring out the above statement.

P. & E. R. R.—The earnings of this road for the year ending Oct. 31, 1892, were $2,804,259.33 and the cost of maintaining and operating the road $2,839,565.12. For interest and taxes $712,055.45. Number of passengers and employees killed during the year, 24—number injured, 49. Considering the length of the road and the immense business transacted this represents a small average of accidents, in comparison with other roads. The road is fast assuming a first class position among the main lines of travel and transportation under its present management.

AN ELOPEMENT SENSATION.—Considerable sensation has been created here by the elopement of a young white lady with a light mulatto man. The young lady is about sixteen years of age, is quite pretty, and respectably connected, and her flight a few days since astonished none so much as her own family, who had never dreamed of her singular attachment. The colored youth is represented as being a waiter in a New York restaurant, and is said to be steady and industrious. The young lady's father pursued her to Boston and brought her home.—Pittsburgh Commercial.
